Northwest Asset Management, as of December 31, 2022, has $2,185,879,230 in discretionary Assets under Management and $841,539,511 in non-discretionary assets under management for $3,027,418,741 total assets under management.

ITEM 5 – FEES AND COMPENSATION

5a: Fees

Investment Management

We charge a fixed percentage of assets under management, a transaction fee or a flat fee.

The maximum annual fee is 1.75%. Fees are negotiable. As a result, fees may range from no charge to the maximum annual fee of 1.75%.

Fees may differ based on a number of factors:

- Size of the relationship – Larger accounts may receive more favorable pricing.
- Level of services needed – Accounts requesting more services may have higher fees.
- Investment Strategy
- Trading activity and active portfolio management – actively managed accounts generally have higher fees than fixed income accounts, buy and hold portfolios, and mutual fund or exchange traded fund accounts.
- Advisor expertise and experience
- Comprehensive Financial Planning

Although the firm's advisors may provide similar services, fees may differ from advisor to advisor. You may contact us at info@nwasset.com to request specific fee quotes for specific services from our investment advisor representatives.

Fee waivers or discounts which are not available to clients may be offered to Owners, Directors, Officers and Associated Persons of Northwest Asset Management and our related as well as to family members and friends of associated persons of Northwest Asset Management. It is important to note that it is possible that different investment advisor representatives may charge different asset management or account service fees or may waive certain custodian fees for providing the same types and level of service to clients. The specific level of services you will receive, and the asset management fees you will be charged will be specified in your investment advisory agreement.

For purposes of determining value, securities and other instruments traded on a market for which actual transaction prices are publicly reported are valued at the last reported sale price on the principal market in which they are traded.

The fee includes the time and activities necessary to work with your attorney and/or accountant in reaching agreement on solutions, as well as assisting them in implementation of all appropriate documents. We are not responsible for attorney or accountant fees charged to you as a result of these activities.

Outside Portfolio Managers Fees to outside portfolio managers may be included as part of the Northwest Asset Management's fee outlined above with a portion of the fee charged going to the outside portfolio manager. The fee may also be charged in addition to Northwest Asset Management fees outlined above. When the fee is charged separately, specific fees and other terms and conditions under which a client engages an outside portfolio manager will be set forth in a separate written agreement with the designated outside portfolio manager. Fees for outside portfolio managers range from .2% to 1% of assets under management. Total fees will not exceed the industry standard of excessive fees which is 3%.

Retirement Plans (ERISA, 401(k))

Fees for retirement plan ERISA planning and consulting services depend on the types of services that serve the client. For 401(k) or profit sharing plans, we typically use our standard fee table or another negotiated rate, which generally depends on the size of the plan and the services rendered. For larger plans, we may charge a fixed annual fee directly to the Plan Administrator for our services. This "conflict free" model of contracting directly with the Plan Administrator, without being contractually or revenue bound to any 3rd party money manager, allows us to provide our services knowing we are only working towards your goals and needs.

In certain legacy cases, we have arrangements with Plan Sponsors and 3rd party money managers, but this is not a model we employ any longer. There is a chance for conflict in certain cases, where we may receive 12b-1 fees as registered representatives, as described in Item 10 below.

Retirement Planning / Financial Planning

Fees for retirement and financial planning services are based on an hourly rate of up to $350.00 per hour, due at time of service. Adviser will also perform certain financial consulting projects on a fixed fee basis. Fixed fee projects fees will range widely depending on the services being offered, the length of the contract and the complexity of the work.

Consulting

Fees for consulting services are based on an hourly rate of up to $350.00 per hour, depending on the types and levels of services provided. The services may be billed at the time work is performed, although contracts may specify the total number of hours expected in total. Fees are due within 10 days of invoice.

RIA Innovations

Our RIA Innovations unit generally provides client management, monitoring and operational support programs. These are charged on a quarterly basis for services set forth in the agreement the participating advisor signs with us.

Asset Management: In certain cases, RIA Innovations will provide non-discretionary portfolio management services. In these cases we are paid a portion of the participating advisors fee that is charged to the end client. Our fee is typically 0.08% annually. For purposes of determining value, securities and other instruments are valued at the last reported sale price on the principal market in which they are traded. These fees may be negotiable and are set forth in the agreement between RIA Innovations and the participating advisor. In total, the fee charged to the end client should not exceed the fee a client would pay if it worked directly with RIA Innovations. This fee is paid quarterly, in advance or arrears as designated in the agreement.

5b: Fee Payments Options

Northwest Asset Management requires written authorization from the client to deduct advisory fees from an account held by a qualified custodian. The custodian pays from your account when we submit written notice of the amount of the fee to be deducted. We submit invoices quarterly, in advance or arrears, as it stated in the client agreement. If there is insufficient cash in your account, securities may be sold. In addition to our fees, there may be custodial, mutual fund or third-party management fees and charges.

Retirement Plans (ERISA, 401(k))

Fees for our work and consultation on retirement plans differ greatly depending on services selected and the size and complexity of the plan. Services may be based on a recurring fixed fee payment, percentage of assets being managed or as a part of fees paid to third-party money managers. The fees are paid quarterly in advance or arrears as designated in the construction of our agreement with you.

Retirement Planning / Financial Planning Fixed Fees

Services performed on a fixed fee basis are paid as set forth in our agreement with you. Depending on the size and scope of the project, we may request fees up front, a partial retainer or to be paid in full upon completion. All invoices are due within ten (10) days of invoice.

RIA Innovations

We have different payment methods depending on the specific arrangements set forth in our agreement with the advisory client.

5c: Third Party Fees

All fees paid to us for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by custodians, broker dealers, mutual funds and other third parties. All fees and charges incurred in connection with transactions for the account will be paid out of the assets in the account and are in addition to the investment management fees paid to us. These potential fees include but are not limited to mutual funds fees, trading fees, transaction fees, exchange fees, transfer taxes, custodial fees, administrative fees for MF/ETFs and wire transfer and electronic funds processing fees. You bear the responsibility for verifying the accuracy of fee calculations. Wrap fee clients should refer to the wrap fee brochure for definitions of these fees.

5d: Termination and Payments

Our fees are paid in advance, arrears or at the time of service, as detailed in each program details in Item 5b above. Either Northwest Asset Management or our client may terminate the investment advisory relationship at any time for any reason. When an agreement is terminated, we will refund any pre-paid, unearned fees based on the number of days remaining in the quarter after termination. Refunds will be made in the month following the end of the quarter in which the contract was terminated.

When an agreement is terminated, we will no longer have access to your account. You will be responsible for paying all fees including full quarterly custodial administrative fees, account closure fees, mutual fund fees and all trading costs due to the termination. Custodian may assess additional fees for transfer of illiquid investments. If there is insufficient cash in the account, the liquidation of some securities may be used to pay the fees. Prior to termination of an agreement, we can provide a good-faith estimate of these fees.

For California Residents: Subsection (j) of Rule 260.238, California Code of Regulations requires that all investment Advisers disclose to their Clients that lower fees for comparable services may be available from other sources. Pursuant to California Rule 260.235.2, a conflict exists between the interests of the Adviser or its associated persons and the interest of the Client; the Client is under no obligation to act upon this Adviser's or associated person's recommendations. If the Client elects to act on any of the recommendations, the Client is under no obligation to effect the transaction through the Adviser or its associated person when the person is an agent with a licensed broker-dealer or through any associate or affiliate of such person.

5.e: Other Investment Compensation

Some representatives of Northwest Asset Management may receive commissions for the sale of securities or other investment products, including asset-based sales charges, 12b-1 fees, and service fees from the sale of mutual funds. This interest may conflict with the clients' interest of obtaining the lowest commission rate available. Therefore, we must determine in good faith, based on the "best execution" policy stated below in Item 12a that such compensation is reasonable in relation to the value of the services provided by such executing broker-dealers. Upon a client's request, Northwest Asset Management's representatives will make available a description of what the manager obtained through soft dollar arrangements and/or 12b-1 fees, the names of the broker-dealers providing those fees, products or services, the amount of commissions generated for the requesting client's account, and other information regarding the use of the particular broker-dealer.

ITEM 6 – PERFORMANCE-BASED FEES AND SIDE-BY-SIDE MANAGEMENT

Northwest Asset Management does not charge advisory fees on the performance of funds or securities in your account.

ITEM 7 – TYPES OF CLIENTS

We generally provide asset management and financial planning services to the following types of Clients:

- Individuals
- High-Net-Worth Individuals
- Pension and Profit Sharing Plans
- Charitable Organizations
- Corporations

There is no account minimum. However, the Adviser may decline to accept clients with portfolios under $500,000. Clients should carefully review the disclosure documents of outside portfolio managers and sub-advisers regarding account minimums and whether those account minimums are negotiable.

ITEM 8 – METHODS OF ANALYSIS, INVESTMENT STRATEGIES AND RISK OF LOSS

8a: Strategies and Analysis

Northwest Asset Management uses multiple strategies in order to best meet the diverse needs of our clients. We use multiple sources of information in performing our research, including sources such as reports and articles in financial media, financial magazines, research prepared by others, industry publications, corporate rating services, prospectuses, company press releases and annual reports and filings with the SEC. Northwest Asset Management uses fundamental and technical analysis to evaluate securities and market conditions. Fundamental analysis does not attempt to anticipate market movements. Technical analysts do not attempt to measure a security's intrinsic value. Using these methods of analysis presents potential risks as prices of securities can move up or down due to company-specific circumstances as well as in line with the overall market regardless of the fundamental or technical factors considered in evaluation.

We believe it is important that each client know that our strategy is tailored to best meet their goals and needs. Each client presents a unique profile, and we may employ one or more strategies or methods to meet their goals.

Modern Portfolio Theory

Northwest Asset Management generally adheres to the principles of Modern Portfolio Theory, which advocates investing across different asset classes to increase diversity and reduce risk. Based on our research and the research of others, we will generally diversify your assets among cash equivalents (money market funds); high-quality, short-term bonds; large and small company stocks; and growth (higher-priced) and value (lower-priced) stocks in the U.S. and foreign developed markets. In certain circumstances, large, small, growth, and value stocks in select emerging markets and/or shares of real estate investment trusts (REITs) and commodity indexes will be included in diversified portfolios.

Asset Allocations Northwest Asset Management recommends a mix of asset classes for your portfolio based on an assessment of your long-term financial objectives. Where appropriate, we will recommend an allocation to high-quality, short-term bonds (within a broadly diversified index or asset class mutual fund) to reduce overall portfolio risk, generate a more predictable cash flow (interest income), facilitate portfolio rebalancing, and provide a hedge against inflation.

If your objective is a higher annual expected return and you are willing to accept a higher degree of risk, we will recommend a portfolio with greater allocations to stocks in general and small company and value stocks specifically (using index or asset class mutual funds). Recommended stock allocations will generally be globally diversified among the U.S. and foreign developed markets. In certain circumstances, we may include emerging markets and REITs in limited percentages. Our recommended asset allocation is not influenced by current market conditions. This asset allocation (which becomes your written "Investment Policy") is altered only when your long-term investment objectives have changed.

Rebalancing

Asset allocations for your portfolio will change as financial markets rise and fall and the specific assets of different parts of your portfolio change. This creates the opportunity to selectively rebalance your portfolio in order to bring asset class percentages back to your target allocation. Asset classes that have risen beyond predetermined limits are sold by an amount that brings the allocation back in line with targets, and those that have fallen in value are purchased in the same way. This is a method of buying low and selling high that is not based on trying to predict the direction of markets or asset returns.

This rebalancing has the effect of enhancing portfolio returns while maintaining the agreed-upon risk. In order to limit rebalancing transactions and the costs associated with buying and selling mutual funds through the chosen custodian, Northwest Asset Management has pre-determined ranges in which allocations may vary and at which rebalancing is initiated.

Specific Investments

While we generally select ETFs, mutual funds or similar securities, we may at times select individual securities or build individual stock portfolios for our clients. In these cases, Northwest Asset Management examines each securities management, financial condition, and market position and ensures that any purchases of individual securities work towards the client's portfolio goals, investment horizons and exposure to risk. Individual stocks present potential risks as prices of individual securities can move up or down due to general economic conditions, industry specific conditions, government regulations or corporate management, among other factors.

8b: Investment Strategy Risks

As recent global and domestic economic events have indicated, performance of any asset or asset class is not guaranteed, and can indeed be unpredictable. As a result, there is a risk of loss of the assets we manage as a result of both allocation and the status of the markets when we rebalance.

While all current research, academia and data allow us to understand and map asset classes and their risk and return, there is a risk that they, or our analysis, are wrong and will lead to losses. Additionally, correlations among asset classes may be judged incorrectly, which also may incur risk of loss as diversification may not be properly balanced. Additionally, minor or severe market conditions may significantly drive gains or losses in one asset class over another, causing unexpected losses. There is a risk that rebalancing at any moment in time will not match current market directions, leading to risk of loss.

8c: Risk of Loss

All investments include a risk of loss. In addition, as recent global and domestic economic events have indicated, performance of any investment is not guaranteed. As a result, there is a risk of loss of the assets we manage that may be out of our control. We use our best efforts as fiduciary to manage your assets. However, we cannot guarantee any level of performance or that you will not experience financial loss. Northwest Asset Management will use our best judgment and act as fiduciary in rendering services to you. We cannot warrant or guarantee any particular level of account performance, or that the account will be profitable over time. Not every investment decision or recommendation made by us will be profitable. You assume all market risk involved in the investment of account assets under the agreement and understand that investment decisions made for any accounts are subject to various market, currency, economic, political and business risks. Except as may otherwise be provided by law, we will not be liable to you for (a) any loss that you may suffer by reason of any investment decision made or other action taken or omitted in good faith by Northwest Asset Management with that degree of care, skill, prudence and diligence under the circumstances that a prudent person acting in a fiduciary capacity would use; (b) any loss arising from our adherence to your instructions; or (c) any act or failure to act by a custodian of your account. Nothing in this document shall relieve us from any responsibility or liability we may have under state or federal statutes.

ITEM 9 – DISCIPLINARY INFORMATION

We do not have any legal, financial or other “disciplinary” items to report to you. We are obligated to disclose any disciplinary event that would be material to you when evaluating our Firm and its associated persons.

ITEM 10 – OTHER FINANCIAL INDUSTRY ACTIVITIES AND AFFILIATIONS

10a: Broker Dealers and Registered Representatives

Certain associated persons of Northwest Asset Management are registered representatives of Purshe Kaplan Sterling Investments, Inc. ("PKS"), a registered broker-dealer and member FINRAISIPC. PKS is a broker-dealer that is independently owned and operated and is not affiliated with our firm. In order to comply with FINRA Conduct Rule 3280, PKS as an unaffiliated broker-dealer may periodically review the investment advisory transactions of our firm. This information will be viewed by PKS' compliance department personnel for supervisory purposes only. No information viewed will be utilized for purposes of solicitation or shared with any affiliation outside the scope of regulatory compliance.

Employees who are registered representatives are paid fees/commissions based on sales of securities, which may include 12b-1 fees. When acting in the capacity of a registered representative, the Adviser and/or associated persons may place clients in investment products sold through PKS and may receive the usual and customary commissions or fees on the products that the client purchases. Receiving commissions on products may cause a conflict of interest. Therefore, the advisory client is free to select any broker dealer company the client desires for implementation of Adviser's recommendations.

10b: Registration as Futures Commission Merchant, Commodity Pool Operator, or Commodity Trading Advisor

Neither Northwest Asset Management nor our employees hold any of the above registrations.

10c: Registration Relationships Material to this Advisory Business and Possible Conflicts of Interests

The principal business of Northwest Asset Management is that of a registered investment adviser and provider of financial planning services. Some of the principals and associated persons of the firm may be licensed as insurance agents and consultants. When acting in the capacity of an insurance agent, the Adviser and associated persons may receive the usual and customary commissions or fees associated with the insurance products that the client purchases. Receiving commissions on insurance products may cause a conflict of interest. Therefore, the advisory client is free to select any insurance company the client desires for implementation of advisor's insurance recommendations.

10d: Selection of Other Advisors and How this Adviser is Compensated for those Selections

Northwest Asset Management may select outside money managers or sub-advisors. We are not compensated for that selection. A portion of the fees you pay us may be used to compensate the third party or money manager. The fees paid and parties involved are clearly set forth in the agreements between Northwest Asset Management, our client and the third party money manager or sub-advisor.

ITEM 11 – CODE OF ETHICS, PARTICIPATION OR INTEREST IN CLIENT TRANSACTIONS AND PERSONAL TRADING

11a: Code of Ethics Description

We have adopted a Code of Ethics to which all investment advisor representatives and employees are bound to adhere. The key component of our Code of Ethics states that Northwest Asset Management and its investment advisor representatives and employees shall always:

- Act with integrity, competence, dignity, and ethically when dealing with the public, clients, prospects, employers, and employees.
- Exercise its authority and responsibility for the benefit and interest of its clients first and to refrain from having outside interests that conflict with the interests of its clients. Northwest Asset Management must avoid any circumstances that might adversely affect or appear to affect its duty of complete loyalty to its clients.
- Refrain from disclosing any nonpublic personal information about a client to any nonaffiliated third party unless the client expressly gives permission to Northwest Asset Management to do so. All client information will otherwise be treated as confidential.
- Maintain the physical security of nonpublic information, including information stored on computers.

This Code of Ethics is in place to guide the personal conduct of our team and embodies our fiduciary duties and responsibilities to you and sets forth our practice of supervising the personal securities transactions of employees with prior or concurrent access to client trade information. A copy of the Northwest Asset Management Code of Ethics is available, free of charge, upon request.

11b, c & d: Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

Northwest Asset Management, or its employees, may buy and sell some of the same securities for our own accounts that we buy and sell for our clients. We will always buy or sell from our clients' accounts before we buy or sell from our accounts. In some cases Northwest Asset Management, or its employees, may buy or sell securities for our own accounts and not for clients' accounts, as it may not meet the objectives or plans for the client. There are possible conflicts of interest, which our Code of Ethics addresses. We will always evaluate our activity from the view of our clients to ensure that any and all required disclosures are made. For example, we will disclose anything that would cause you to be unfairly influenced to make any decision regarding actions or inactions in your account.

Northwest Asset Management does not buy or sell between client accounts and Northwest Asset Management or employees. We will not recommend securities or other investment products to our clients in which Northwest Asset Management or any related person has an ownership or proprietary interest.

Northwest Asset Management always tries to get the best price for the client. Northwest Asset Management has in place internal controls and processes to allow contemporaneous trading (submitting Northwest Asset Management or employee orders at the same time as client order) in block or aggregate trades. In other cases, except in the case of unaffiliated mutual funds, we will always trade individual securities in a client account before we trade Northwest Asset Management or employee accounts.

ITEM 12 – BROKERAGE PRACTICES

12a: Selecting Brokerage Firms

Except to the extent that you direct otherwise, we may recommend a broker-dealer. Northwest Asset Management participates in different custodian and broker dealer programs, including but not limited to Fidelity Investments, Charles Schwab, or TD Ameritrade Institutional (TDAI) programs. Broker dealers offer to independent investment advisors services which include custody of securities, trade execution, clearance and settlement of transactions. Northwest Asset Management receives some benefits from broker-dealers through its participation in their programs. (Please see the disclosure under Item 14.a below.)

You are not obligated to effect transactions through any broker-dealer recommended by Northwest Asset Management. In recommending broker-dealers, we generally seek “best execution.” In recommending a broker-dealer we will comply with our fiduciary duty to obtain best execution and with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and will take into account such relevant factors as (a) price, (b) the broker-dealer’s facilities, reliability and financial responsibility, (c) the ability of the broker-dealer to effect transactions, particularly with regard to such aspects as timing, order size and execution of order, (d) the research and related brokerage services provided by such broker or dealer to Northwest Asset Management, notwithstanding that the account may not be the direct or exclusive beneficiary of such services and (e) any other factors Northwest Asset Management considers to be relevant.

To avoid creating a possible conflict of interest in recommending broker-dealers, we have established the following restrictions in order to ensure its fiduciary responsibilities:

- Northwest Asset Management adheres to our Code of Ethics as outlined in Item 11 above.
- If Northwest Asset Management receives separate compensation for transactions, we will fully disclose them.
- Northwest Asset Management emphasizes the unrestricted right of you to select and choose your own broker or dealer.
- Northwest Asset Management will always act in accordance with all applicable federal and state regulations governing registered investment advisory practices.

Your Custody and Brokerage Costs

Custodian/brokers generally do not charge you separately for custody services but are compensated by charging you commissions or other fees on trades that it executes or that settle into your account. For some accounts, client’s may be charged a percentage of the dollar amount of assets in the account in lieu of commissions. Custodian rates may be determined by committing a certain value of assets at a particular custodian/broker. This commitment benefits you because the overall rates you pay may be lower than they would be if we had not made the commitment. You may also be charged a flat dollar amount as a “prime broker” or “trade away” fee for each trade that we have executed by a different broker-dealer but where the securities bought or the funds from the securities sold are deposited (settled) into your account. These fees are in addition to the commissions or other compensation you pay the executing broker-dealer.

Products and Services Available to Us

Custodians may provide Northwest Asset Management and our clients with access to its institutional brokerage – trading, custody, reporting and related services – many of which are not typically available to retail customers. These services and research are known as “soft dollars.” Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 provides a “safe harbor” that allows an investment advisor to pay more than the lowest available commission for brokerage and research services if it determines in good faith that the commission paid was reasonable in relation to the brokerage and research services provided.

Northwest Asset Management may receive soft dollar products and services from broker dealers, custodians or other program sponsors and product issuers. These products and services may be used for both research and non-research purposes and allows Northwest Asset Management to supplement, at no client cost, its own research, marketing and analysis activities. Additionally, various support services may be provided that help us manage or administer our clients’ accounts or help us manage and grow our business. Typically support services are available on an unsolicited basis (we don’t have to request them) and at no charge to us as long as we maintain a minimum value of client assets at the custodian/broker. If we fall below minimum commitments, we will be charged fees, which may represent a conflict of interest.

Services that Benefit You.

You gain access to a broad range of investment products, execution of securities transactions, and custody of client assets. The investment products available through some brokers include some to which might not otherwise be available or would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment by our clients.

Services that May Not Directly Benefit You.

Other products and services that benefit us but may not directly benefit you or your account. These products and services assist us in managing and administering our clients' accounts. They include investment research, both from the broker and that of third parties. We may use this research to service all or some substantial number of our clients' accounts, including accounts not maintained at the broker from which we received benefit. In addition to investment research, brokers may also make available software or other technology that:

- provide access to client account data (such as duplicate trade confirmations and account statements);
- facilitate trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts;
- provide pricing and other market data;
- facilitate payment of our fees from our clients' accounts;
- assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping and client reporting;
- reports, publications and data on matters such as the economy, industries, sectors and individual companies or issuers, statistical information, account and law interpretations, political analyses, legal developments affecting portfolio securities, technical market actions, credit analyses, risk management and analyses of corporate responsibility issues; and
- on-line news services and financial and market database services.

Services that Generally Benefit Only Us.

Some services intended to help us manage and further develop our business enterprise. These services include:

- educational conferences and events;
- seminars;
- technology, compliance, legal, marketing and business consulting and assistance;
- publications and conferences on practice management and business succession; and
- access to employee benefits providers, human capital consultants and insurance providers.

These services may come directly from a custodian/broker or in other cases, it will be arranged by third-party vendors. The broker may also discount or waive its fees for some of these services or pay all or a part of a third party's fees or us with other benefits such as occasional business entertainment of our personnel.

The availability of these services benefits us because we do not have to produce or purchase them, which may be a conflict of interest. We believe, however, that our selection of our custodians and brokers is in the best interests of our clients. It is primarily supported by the scope, quality and price of services and not just those services that benefit only us. In cases where minimum asset balances are required, we believe we will have no difficulties maintaining minimum valuation in order to avoid paying service fees or that maintaining them presents a material conflict of interest.

12.b: Aggregation & IPOs

We have adopted policies and procedures for aggregating and allocating client securities transactions. If each client participating in an aggregate order receives its full allocation, then each participating client generally receives the average price per share paid or received for the purchased or sold securities with transaction costs shared pro rata among participating clients. If each client participating in an aggregated order receives less than its full allocation, then each participating client generally receives its pro rata share of the executed order with transaction costs shared proportionately.

We have in place policies and procedures for the participation of eligible portfolios in initial public offering ("IPO") allocations. These allocations are based upon the client's investment guidelines, objectives, restrictions, liquidity requirements, or other factors. We determine portfolios eligible to participate in initial public offerings on an ongoing basis. In some circumstances, IPO allocations may not be fully filled, at which point each participating client generally receives its pro rata share of the executed order with any costs shared proportionately.
